

A legendary journey into the
Amazon heart

A man with a beard and a wide-brimmed hat is smiling while holding a large, silvery fish with yellowish fins in a river. The background shows lush green trees and a clear blue sky. The water is slightly rippled, and the fish's scales are highly detailed.

Sécore Lodge Waters

Upper Sécore river

The Sécore River is born at the confluence of the Nutusama and Cascarrillas streams. In its upper reaches, it flows from north to south through the Mosetenes and Eva Eva mountain ranges. The water here is crystal clear, winding through pristine jungle and steep mountains — a breathtaking setting with wild fish and untouched beauty.

RIVERS MAP

Species

Golden Dorado,
Pacú, Yatorana,
Moturo & Surubí

Ashahana creek

Ashahana means “water that flows under the rock” in the Tsimane language. This deep, canyon-like creek runs through rugged terrain and rocky outcrops. It’s a highly technical environment due to the narrow and enclosed nature of the stream — perfect for adventurous anglers.

Maniquisito creek

Maniquisito is a creek of ever-changing scenery — from narrow stone canyons to fast-flowing lowland runs. Large dorado hunt schools of mojarra here, pushing upstream in search of food and shelter. It’s a dynamic fishery with great opportunities for visual strikes and exciting action.

Sécore Lodge

Hosts up to 6 anglers per week in private single rooms, all with private bathrooms, hot water, and comfortable queen beds.

The lodge is built from local sustainable wood, blends beautifully with its jungle surroundings, and now operates 100% on solar power.

Massage room

Full bar with international spirits + argentinian, chilean & bolivian wines

Free Wi-Fi & laundry

Air-conditioned living & dining room

Fly shop

Gourmet meals

Wading Gear

- Long-sleeve shirts or hoodies, lightweight quick-dry pants
- Neoprene socks and felt-sole wading boots (rubber soles not recommended)
- Waterproof backpack: YETI Panga 28L is a solid choice

Fly shop

Each lodge is equipped with a fly shop offering:

- Fly lines, fluorocarbon, wire tippet, and a wide variety of flies

Fly patterns overview

FLY	DESCRIPTION	RECOMMENDED HOOKS
Streamers	Presentation & silhouette are key in headwaters. Subtle tones (like white) work best for big resident dorado.	Tiemco 600SP #4/0 Owner Aki 5170 #5/0–#6/0 Gamakatsu SL12S #4/0 or SC15 2H #3/0–#4/0
Game Changers	Great in both headwaters & lower rivers. Dead-drift through strong currents. Perfect for subtle, deep presentations.	Gamakatsu SL12S #4/0
Big Dry Flies	Jungle insects attract pacu, yatorana—and dorado too. Guides have refined topwater techniques for dorado.	Tiemco 600SP #2/0 Owner Aki 5170 #3/0 Gamakatsu SL12S #2/0 or SC15 2H #1/0–#2/0
Poppers & Sliders	Shine near sandbars & submerged logs, especially during feeding frenzies. Great for surface chaos early in the season.	Tiemco 600SP #4/0 Owner Aki 5170 #5/0–#6/0 Gamakatsu SL12S #4/0 or SC15 2H #3/0–#4/0
Fruit Patterns	Designed for pacu feeding under branches. High, soft cast is key—then let the fly sink naturally.	Owner Aki Twist 5169 #3/0 (black) Sasame Chinu #5/0 (black)

Conservation & ethics

→ Strict catch-and-release policy & Single hooks only

Each released fish supports a biological monitoring program in partnership with WCS (Wild-life Conservation Society) tracks fish migration, health, and behavior.

At Tsimane, you'll have the rare chance to target trophy dorado on the fly, in clear, fast-flowing mountain rivers deep in the Bolivian Amazon.

Gears recommendations

Rods & Reels

- We recommend bringing two single-handed 8- or 9-weight rods.
- One should be rigged with a floating line, the other with a clear-tip intermediate line.
- It's ideal to bring 1-2 backup rods in case of breakage.

Recommended rod: Thomas & Thomas
Exocett 88 300

Recommended reels: MAKO 9500 or
Tournament

Lines & leaders

- Fly line: Scientific Anglers Jungle Titan 9wt
- Leader setup: 8 ft of 40 lb fluorocarbon + 15-20" of 40 lb wire tippet

Recommended materials:

Absolute Fluorocarbon (40lb)

Absolute Predator 7x7 knottable wire by Scientific Anglers

Native Fee

Represents the direct benefit to the Indigenous communities who are our long-term partners at Tsimane. While individual community members earn income through guiding, lodge maintenance, fuel and supply transport, and other operational roles, this fee goes beyond that.

The Native Fee supports collective well-being—it's distributed among 34 communities and 4 Indigenous organizations in the region and is used to fund community development projects that improve quality of life and promote long-term sustainability.

National Park fee (SISCO)

This is your official entry permit to the national park. This fee goes directly to Bolivia's National Protected Areas Service (SERNAP) and helps fund conservation, maintenance, and oversight within the protected area.

In addition, Tsimane independently funds five ranger stations strategically located around the park. These stations are staffed by a combination of park rangers and Indigenous territorial guardians, who work together to protect the eco-system and support long-term preservation efforts.

Travel Documents

For the most European countries
no visa is required

But we recommend visiting www.Bolivia-usa.org to check if your country belongs to group 1 (no visa required), group 2 & 3 (visa required)

A valid passport is mandatory for entry into Bolivia. Your passport must be valid for at least six months.

Bolivia has an easy visa procedure and we'll provide you everything you need to do it.

Baggage

Please pack light—luggage is limited to 20 kg (44 lbs) due to charter flight restrictions. We use small aircraft, and weight limits are strictly enforced for safety.

You can leave any non-essential items at your Santa Cruz hotel, where you'll return after your week in the jungle.

"More than a fishing trip – Tsimane is a journey into the wild heart of the Amazon, where adventure, culture, and conservation come together."
